For North Carolina—Fair Wednesday and Thursday, warmer; light northeast to east winds.

The Raleigh Harbinger says: "Printers are not week kneed." However, we are bound to come out flat footed and declare that they are light fingered.

Republican leaders let on like they are proud of President Roosevelt but they are prouder of the fact that he is on record against standing for another term.

"A woman never fails to boasts of her intuition," says the Chicago News. Yes, they continue to call it intuition but some men consider it ordinary suspicion.

President Roosevelt insists upon giving it out now and then that a "considerable show is being made on the Panama canal." However, the big elephant constitutes the whole show.

A medal or badge or coat of arms or something representing the "square deal" is being made for President Roosevelt while he is getting ready to make a trip all round the South.

The loyal Raleigh man thinks it is perfectly natural that President Roosevelt should merely take time to step out on the platform and squint at Charlotte as his train goes South in October.

Prof. Goldwin Smith is out with a proposition to "give married men two votes on political questions." The professor might make rank partisans of the married men by restoring them half a vote on domestic questions.

Germany's little tilt with 70,000 natives in her West African colony cost the lives of 38,000 white troops and a treasury outpour of $70,000,000. It would stagger us to know what our exploits in the Philippines have cost in blood and treasure.

Some newspapers are reminding us that Colonel Bryan said the reason that Parker was not elected President was that rather than vote for him in Democrats had taken to the woods. Now here, this is nothing more nor less than showing Cortelyou a line of defence against the indictment for getting all the votes with trust subscribed money.

ARRANGEMENTS FOR BAZAAR

Committees Are at Work For Fair to Be Given on Armory Lawn Next Week.

Library of Congress

A from to-night and the elaborat[illegible]r of the Wilmington Light Infant[illegible]l be on in all its glory. The various committees are as busy as bees and no department of the big show will be neglected. Fun and frolic will run riot during the two nights of the affair and the people of Wilmington who care to patronize the show either from love of the company or to gratify their own desire for the light, frivolous and fanciful, will get all that's coming to them and more too.

The Music Committee has arranged for a splendid orchestra to furnish music during the two evenings of the bazaar and a number of favorite local singers will contribute to the programme of vocal music. Among those who have already signified their willingness to aid are Mrs. Anne deR. Harris, Misses Mills and Borden and Messrs. Chas. McMillen, W. G. W. Krafft and Herbert K. Holden.

The baby show, which promises to be a most interesting feature of the bazaar, will take place Thursday afternoon in the assembly room of the armory. The "exhibits" will be numbered and each patron of the show will be allowed to cast a vote for the cooing, little creature which he or she may think deserves to win the prize.

Donations are rapidly coming in for the country store from the merchants of the city. Ladies who will give ice cream, cake or the like for the refreshment booth are requested to notify as early as possible any member of the company or any member of the committee, which is composed of T. J. Gause, Ed. Holmes, Norwood Orrell and Fred Banck.

A shooting gallery over a miniature range will be one of the features of the bazaar midway. Then there will be others and all in all, the fair will be worth coming miles to see. Fifteen hundred bags of confetti have been ordered to add gaiety to the midway.

A joint meeting of all the committees will be held Thursday night and it is important that all be present with something definite to report.

AS TO COMPULSORY PILOTAGE.

Petitions From Other Southern Ports For Abolition and Reply.

The Marine Journal of Sept. 16th 1905, has the following in regard to petitions from Charleston, Savannah and Brunswick, Ga., asking for the abolition of compulsory pilotage, which the Star is requested to publish and does so without comment:

"Petitions requesting the abolition of pilotage charges at various Southern ports, such as Charleston, Savannah, and Brunswick, Ga., are being circulated among masters of sailing vessels engaged in the coasting trade for their signatures, but the proposal does not meet with much approval from these men, says the New York Evening Post.

"'I would never sign such a petition,' said Capt. Dayton, master and owner of the three-masted schooner Bessie Whiting, 'and I'll tell you why. Seven year ago I took my schooner down to Charleston with a full cargo and drawing fifteen feet of water. I had been ashore for four years and, of course, had not been into Charleston harbor in that time. I got off the Charleston bar just at dark, with a hurricane blowing and no pilot to be seen. I stood off and on for a few hours, one eye peeled in search of a pilot and the other watching the weather. Finally, I made up my mind to take my vessel in myself and started for the channel.

"'The range lights were burning brightly and I felt confident that I could carry her in all right, until I was within a few fathoms of the bar, when my heart suddenly failed me. I wore ship, stood out to sea, made ready for the hurricane, and weathered it out offshore. Next morning, when I did go in there was the lighthouse boat shifting the range lights on the bar. A lump had formed since I was there last, and had I attempted to cross the bar using the range lights as my guide, I'd have lost ship, cargo, and probably all hands. No, sir, I'll never sign a petition to do away with the pilotage at Charleston or any other Southern port.

"'Another thing, if the pilotage is taken off, who benefits? The vessel owner? No, sir; the merchant, who pays the freight bill, and he reaps all the benefit. The pilotage fee of 25 cents per registered ton was taken off at Wilmington, and what was the result? When I want to make a charter for that port the merchant deducts that amount from the freight rate on the plea that I don't have any pilotage to pay.'"

EUGENIE BLAIR CLOSED.

Company Playing "A Doll's House" Returns to New York.

Miss Eugenie Blair and company, which presented "A Doll's House" in this city last week abandoned their Southern tour at Greenville, S. C., Saturday and went back to New York. Manager Ritchie states that the show was losing money and that the prospects for improvements were not good. He was careful to let it be known that the company was not stranded or anywhere near it. It just was not paying.

Miss Blair's abandoned tour is proof that Isben is too serious for the usual theatre-goers. His social studies are succesful in large cities where there is many to draw from, but in the smaller ones the number attracted are not sufficient to support a show.

ON TRIAL THURSDAY

Thomas Gillespie, Young Negro, Arraigned on Charge of Criminal Assault Yesterday

IN THE SUPERIOR COURT

Number of Unimportant Matters Disposed of Yesterday—No Bills Yet In Shockley and Lamb Murder Cases.

Yesterday was another day of very little interest in the Superior Court. The cases disposed of were trifling and nothing of importance developed from the sitting of the grand jury. The charge of criminal assault against Thomas Gillespie, the young negro from Harnett township, will be taken up at 9:30 o'clock to-morrow morning and a venire of 100 was yesterday placed in the hands of the sheriff from which to begin the selection of a jury at that time. Gillespie was formally arraigned in court yesterday and pleaded not guilty to the charge upon which he will go on trial for his life. William J. Bellamy, Esq., represented the prisoner at the arraignment. It is understood that relatives of Gillespie are arraigning to employ Mr. Bellamy to represent the defendant at the trial. Deputy sheriffs are now engaged in summoning members of the venire for Thursday morning.

The grand jury has as yet returned no bills in the cases of M. W. Shockley and young Lamb, charged with murder. Bills in those cases are expected to-day, but it is certain that not more than one, if either of them, can be reached at the present time.

Court met at 10 A. M. yesterday, and of the 36 talesmen ordered summoned for the day, 29 were returned. The following were excused for the reason given: T. H. Johnson, clerk of market; M. H. Johnson, sickness in family; J. H. McDougall, foreman of iron foundry. C. R. Pape, a juror, was called and failed, but later came in and after satisfactory excuse, was relieved of penalty. The following cases were disposed of:

Bettie McFadden, larceny; guilty of receiving stolen goods and sentenced to six months in jail with leave to commissioners to work on the county roads or on the county farm.

Bell McKoy, larceny; verdict guilty with recommendation to mercy; sentenced to four months on county farm.

J. P. Stewart, carrying concealed weapons; submitted and fined $20 and costs.

Levi Hammond, carrying concealed weapons; submitted and fined $20 and costs.

J. C. Abraham, carry concealed weapon; submitted and fined $15 and costs.

Nathan Rankins, larceny; pleaded guilty; sentenced to 12 months in jail with leave to work on roads or at county farm.

Sandy Pittman, larceny; verdict guilty; sentenced to eight months in jail with leave to commissioners to on roads or county farm.

Gealie James, sentences changed in two cases with leave to commissioners to work roads or at county farm.

Sentence of John Hutson changed likewise.

Zenman Williams; abandonment and non support; verdict guilty; sentenced to 12 months in county jail with leave to commissioners to work on roads or at the farm.

Frank Cumber, nuisance on steamer Wilmington; pleaded guilty; sentenced to 30 days in jail with leave to commissioners to work on roads or at the farm.

Spencer Hart, assault in which serious injury was done; verdict guilty of simple assault after court hours.

At 6:15 o'clock court took a recess until 9:30 o'clock this morning.

"THE ETERNAL CITY."

Dramatization of Hall Caine's Great Novel Next Saturday Night.

Hall Caine's great play, "The Eternal City" will be the attraction at the Academy of Music Saturday evening, and the sale of seats for the production will begin Friday morning. Of the appearance last week in Richmond, the News-Leader of that city says:

The dramatization of Hall Caine's novel, "The Eternal City," a spectacular drama in eight scenes, was the attraction of the Academy stage last night.

This play presents the innovation of including among the dramatis personae the Pope himself, though Mr. Caine, in his dramatization of the piece, has handled it with such delicacy as to give no offense to even the most devout Catholic, and the time of the play is placed in the far future, as an additional precaution in this direction. The plot of the book has been deviated from in many important particulars, for dramatic purposes, for audiences demand happy endings for their plays.

The play is powerful, holding the attention of the audience continually and keeping them always on the alert for new developments. Most of the scenes end in melodramatic climax, which strike a sympathetic chord in the galleries.

Miss Jane Kenmark, as Donna Roma Velonna, displayed great skill, proving herself equal to the emotional parts and evincing that subtle charm of manner, and voice with which the character is endowed. Mr. William E. Bonney gave a quiet protrayal of the part of David Rorsi, while Mr. Emmet C. King did a splendid piece of work as Baron Bonnelli. Mr. Jefferson Lloyd, as Bruno Rocco, showed great ability, and made the part a whole-souled one. Mr. R. V. Ranous did not make as much out of the part of the Pope as Frank C. Bangs did last year.

SOME FINE FARM PRODUCTS

On exhibition at the Chamber of Commerce yesterday were some remarkably fine specimens of cotton and peanuts, grown by Mr. B. F. Keith this season on his farm at Keith, N. C., up the Cape Fear river. There were two stalks or hills of cotton besides several limbs pulled from another stalk, the limbs showing 55 fully matured bolls with as many more left on the same plant. Another of the stalks shown at the Chamber of Commerce has 75 fully matured bolls and the other about 125 bolls of as pretty cotton as was ever exhibited here.

Mr. Keith says something less than 1,300 pounds of seed cotton of the variety shown gins out a 500-pound bale and judging from the size of the bolls and the quality of the staple, there is no gainsaying the statement.

As to the peanuts, there were two samples of the same variety of seed—one showing where Ground Phosphate Lime had been used and the other, from the same land and with the same cultivation, where it was not used. The hill which was grown where there was 800 to 1,000 pounds of the Ground Phosphate Lime used, showed about five times the yield of peas over the plant where the lime was not used.

Under the cotton that showed such magnificent results, there was only put in the drill 250 pounds of Keith's Phosphate Lime with 100 pounds of cotton seed meal, manufactured by the Universal Oil and Fertilizer Co., of this city, with hulls not separated from the meal. The yield is an extraordinary testimonial to the result-getting qualities of the fertilizers used.

Mr. Keith says that every mail is bringing him in the most flattering reports from planters who used his phosphate lime the present season, and that the expects to sell all that he can possible mine the coming year.

N. C. CHILDREN'S HOME.

Superintendent and Collector of Famous Institution Are In the City.

The State Superintendent of the North Carolina Children's Home Society came over from Greensboro and spent yesterday in the city in the interest of the work, and to a Star reporter said:

"The work of the Society has had a steady and apparently healthy growth during the past year and has added 62 new children to the list of those under its care, making 106 received since organization, September 15, 1903. The plan of the Society being to provide for the children by placing them in the care of Christian families, it has but few on hand at any time for maintenance. Ten of the 106 are now on hand, a portion waiting transfer to the new homes already prepared for them, the others in training to fit them for placement. One eight-year-old Wilmington child had been so neglected that it required six months of mental, moral, and physical scrubbing to fit her for a home; but the result of all that effort is shown in the present happiness of the child and her foster parents.

"The Society has been blessed in all ways, and is particularly grateful for the loyalty of the subscribers to the work how have made it possible for it to heed every legitimate call and to turn no child away because there was no room for it and no funds to provide for its care.

"Two salaried representatives are now employed, myself as superintendent, and Miss Sadie Bilyeu, collector. The latter will be in the city several days to receive the offering of those desiring to help us rescue neglected and needy white children. She is stopping at 308 North Front street, and will be pleased to see anyone interested in the work. She will be glad, too, to know of any father and mother hearts, longing for childish prattle, or of any white child needing care and protection."

We learn by inquiry that Bishop Strange and Mr. P. Pearsall, of this city are directors in the Society, and that contributors constitute the membership. The Society constantly needs funds to prosecute the work. Its support is solely the gifts of the charitable. It supplements the work of the orphanages, and is worthy of the heartiest support.

A. & N. C. DIRECTORS

Governor Glenn Names Those in Behalf of the State of North Carolina

NEW TRIAL IN A. C. L. CASE

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 26.—Governor Glenn announces the appointment of directors for the Atlantic and North Carolina Railroad Company for the ensuing year. They are as follows: J. W. Granger, of Kinston; D. B. Hooker, of Bayboro; C. M. Busbee, of Raleigh, and W. H. Bagley, of Raleigh, re-appoinments; C. T. Wabon, of Newbern; L. P. Tapp, of Kinston; W. D. Creech, of Goldsboro, and W. S. Chadwick, of Beaufort, new appointments. The directors dropped are W. W. H. Smith, of Goldsboro; J. C. Parker, of Olivers; R. W. Taylor, of Morehead City, and L. Harvey, of Kinston. The Governor states that the annual meeing will be held Thursday, at Newbern, when the State's proxy and other officers will be elected.

The Council of State authorizes Governor Glenn to retain ex-Judge T. B. Womack as special counsel to represent the Executive Department of State in the trial of four attendants charged with causing the death of Thomas Nall, the patient in the State Hospital for the Insane, with a view to seeing that the investigation into the case is thorough. The trial begins Thursday.

The Supreme Court, in an opinion just delivered, orders a new trial in the case of the Corporation Commission vs. the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Company, involving the right of the Commission to compel the railroad to place track scales at the plant of the Dennis-Simmons Lumber Company, near Elm City. In the trial below the Judge sustained the demurrer of the railroad company to the evidence and held that the Commission had no right to make an order for track scales. Chief Justice Clark writes the opinion of the Supreme Court reversing this and directing that the case be given to the jury on the facts.

Associate Justice Walker writes the opinion of the court in the sensational contempt case of ex-Mayor McCown, of Durham, who was fined and imprisoned by Judge Ward for assaulting him while he was holding Durham Superior Court recently. He sustains Judge Ward's course, declaring the conclusion of the court to be that the conduct of McCown was a direct contempt of court as much so as if the assault had been made when the Judge was sitting on the bench in open court. The court commends highly the conduct of Judge Ward at the time the assault was made, saying that it was the most perfect example that could be presented to the people of one of their chosen representatives in a judiciary station, tested by the severest ordeal, admirably sustained its dignity and by his own submission and self restraint enhanced the respect due the power and majesty of the law.

The opening week at St. Mary's School was very gratifying to the officers and the work of the school is progressing very pleasantly. The attendance has largely increased and the school will be conducted at its full capacity this session.

The A. and M. College gridiron boys will leave Thursday for Lexington, Va., where they will play the V. M. I. on Friday.

Rev. Dr. R. T. Vann, president of the Baptist University for Women, returned to the city yesterday from Wilmington, where he preached Sunday.

Miscreants destroyed one of the beautiful shade trees in front of the law office at the corner of Salisbury and Martin streets Saturday night, by climbing into it to peep into the Academy of Music at the show. Mr. W. N. Jones will prosecute the persons if they are apprehended.

Dr. John C. Kilgo passed through the city yesterday on his way to Durham from Carthage, where he delivered the dedicatory sermon at the dedication of the handsome new Methodist church.

The Goodman Case.

Charlotte News: "In the Recorder's Court this morning the case of Henry Goodman, charged with seduction was continued until the 16th of October. It will be recalled that Goodman was brought to Charlotte by Chief Irwin Saturday evening. As the interested witness, Edna Hagan, was prevented from appearing in court, on account of sickness, the case was continued until the above date. Goodman was required to give a $300 bond for his appearance at the preliminary hearing."

Another Big Musical Comedy.

Mr. Jules B. Schloss, advance representative of Mason and Mason, who are starring in the big musical comedy "Fritz and Snitz," supported by a company of sixty people, under the well known New York managers Broadhurst & Currie, arrived in the city yesterday. The production will be given here on the night of October 5th at the Academy of Music.

Funeral of Mr. Register.

The funeral of the late Mr. Thomas G. Register was conducted at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from the late residence on Princess street, Rev. A. D. McClure, D. D., pastor of Saint Andrew's Presbyterian church, officiating. A large number of friends of the deceased were in attendance and many friends sent beautiful floral designs. The interment was in Bellevue cemetery, the pall-bearers having been Messrs. W. W. Thigpen, R. A. Montgomery, Jno. Wright West, Frank Lamb, W. A. McGowan and A. H. Croom.

COMING OF "THE CLANSMAN"

Dramatization of Tom Dixon's Sensational Novel Awakens Great Interest Among Theatre Patrons.

Mr. Lee Riley, business manager of The Clansman Company, presenting the dramatization of Tom Dixon's great book by the same name, arrived in the city yesterday arranging for the coming of his great production to this city on Tuesday evening, October 10th.

Mr. Riley talks interestingly of the enthusiastic reception with which "The Clansman" has met in the Virginia cities to which it has been played since the opening in Norfolk last week, and the press in those cities corroborate everything that Mr. Riley has to say about the piece. Yesterday's Richmond Times-Dispatch, for instance, contains a four-column criticism of the play in which it declares it the most sensational drama of modern times.

Two solid car loads of scenery and stage effects, including four trained horses for the Ku Klux Klan scenes, are carried and it will be all that the local playhouse can do to accommodate such an extensive line of properties.

It has been decided since Mr. Riley's arrival in the city to present "The Clansman" at special matinee performance on the afternoon of the night production. Already it is seen that it will be impossible for the theatre management to meet the demands for seats at the single production at night and that no one may be disappointed the afternoon engagement has been arranged. For the night production, a series of excursions from all nearby towns is being arranged with the railroad people so that out-of-town patrons may see the play and return the same night. An agent will be sent out in a few days to work up theatre parties in all towns of size along the several lines of railway and steamboats in this section. Rev. Mr. Dixon himself accompanies the show and will be cordially received by hosts of admirers here. All in all "The Clansman" promises to be the theatrical event extraordinary of the entire season. The price of seats, however, will not be advanced beyond that for the higher class of attractions that have visited the local playhouse already.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Wednesday Morning, Sept 27.

OUR COTTON MANUFACTURING INDUSTRY.

When the New England Manufacturers' convention was in session a fortnight ago in Atlantic City the Star made the comment that these conventions of the manufacturers and also those of the growers invariably resulted in some good to the cotton industry. They are sure to mark new progress, set on foot some new method, or afford enlightment on the different branches of the industry. It has not been many years since this same association of New England manufacturers laughed at any competition in cotton manufacturing on the part of the South, but that they have learned something, the following from the New York Commercial will indicate:

"That important changes are taking place in the manufacture and disposition of cotton goods, as well as in the growing and marketing of the raw staple, is learned from the addresses delivered at the convention of the New England Cotton Manufacturers' Association at Atlantic City. The ways of today are not the old ways. Once the North had the manufacture of cotton pretty well within its own hands, and the South knew nothing about cotton except to plant and pick it. Then some genius raised the cry of 'build the spindles in the cotton fields.' It became popular, and we find the South now raising, marketing and manufacturing its own cotton. Of the four hundred and eighty-three cotton mills erected in the last three years four hundred and five were south of Mason and Dixon's line."

"Build the spindles in the cotton fields," we presume is another phrase for "bring the mills to the cotton" which was the slogan of the Charleston News and Courier some twenty-five or thirty years ago. That able Southern newspaper started a vigorous campaign for building up the cotton manufacturing industry in the South, and we doubt whether any one other agency did so much to start the movement which has resulted in developing the industry to such an extent that the South now manufactures as much if not more cotton than the Northern mills.

It must be borne in mind, however, that some of the Southern States had already builded cotton mills when the News and Courier began its campaign and it will be remembered that at the time North Carolina led all the Southern States in cotton manufacturing. However, the stimulus given to the industry in South Carolina by the vigorous Charleston paper has made that State a close rival of North Carolina in her cotton mill industry. Indeed there is a dispute between the two Carolinas as to which outranks the other in the importance of its cotton manufactories. No doubt, however, the News and Courier was a potent influence not only in South Carolina but throughout the South in making Southern cotton manufacturing what it is to-day.

"There was a time when the Northern spinners had more than they could do to supply the home market, but with the great increase in home manufacture it became necessary to scan foreign fields for an outlet for the surplus. Thereupon American manufacturers found themselves in competition with the cheap labor of Europe. However, we have been steadily advancing in the face of all obstacles, and the exports of cotton manufacture have grown from fourteen million dollars in 1895 to fifty million in the year ended June 30, last.

"Our imports of cotton manufactures have been relatively large, and, notwithstanding our high impost on these goods, there are classes in which we have not learned to compete. It is good to see that the manufacturers are giving intelligent consideration to the problem. Foreign manufacturers have some advantage, of course. It is our duty to study their ways. We are improving over their machinery; they have an advantage in cheapness of labor. That, our manufacturers wisely recognize, cannot be equalized by a reduction here; American labor is high priced, but no one desires to see it reduced to the European standard. Our advancement must be made along other lines. Certainly, we should at least be able to supply—protected by our tariff—the entire home market, and by our improved methods certain classes of foreign trade."

America ought to lead and not follow Europe in cotton manufactures or be in a position to acknowledge that the Europeans can show us the way to begin business. Time and again we have urged that if the Southern mills expect to get foreign trade they must study the needs of foreigners and cater to them. That is what the European spinners and weavers are doing.

This brings us to the point to suggest that the commission which President Roosevelt is to send abroad to develop the foreign cotton trade of this country should be composed of practical manufacturers who can keep their eye open to the needs of the countries they visit as well as to investigate the business methods and resources of the countries which we desire to make our customers.

CURRENT COMMENT.

—Now that a press agent has been appointed for the Panama canal the work of digging the big waterway will progress more satisfactorily—in the press dispatches.—Baltimore Herald.

—The people rule if they will and they must adopt some sure means of preventing partnerships and bargains between the rich corporations and the government, by which, in return for favors granted, favors will be received.—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

—Senator Warner, of Missouri, has written a letter asking that the movement booming him for the Republican presidential nomination be abandoned. He probably realizes the hopelessness of his room, as he is himself a poor man and does not know any life insurance presidents.—Washington Post.

—Lest we forget, it is well to recall that Greensboro's centennial comes off just a matter of two years hence—in 1908—so it will not hurt to keep it in mind. Of course, the presidential election is due the same year, but it will cut a little figure besides our exercises. However, the event is due in May, long before the excitement of the election comes off.—Greensboro Record.

—The war-time hotel at Spottsylvania, well remembered by both Confederate and Federal soldiers, was burned Friday night. An account in The Baltimore Sun says that during the battles of the Civil War the building was struck by many shells, which had never been removed. While the fire was at its height these shells began to explode. There were nine explosions, which scattered the firefighters, as they realized the danger of being near the building. This shows that the ammunition used during the civil war had staying qualities.—Charlotte Chronicle.

—Senator Tillman, at Batesburg, declared Dispensary Director Towill to be an honest man. Yet not longer than a week ago the senator for the third time in a speech insisted that Governor Heyward ought to remove Mr. Towill and his fellow members because they were incompetent and corrupt, and would not even have extended them the right of a hearing. The senator himself did not expect the Governor to follow his advice, but it does seem that he ought to have learned by this time that it does not pay to "blow off his mouth" too much.—Columbia Record.

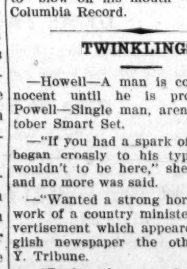
—"Why don't you and your next door neighbor quit quarreling?" asked Mr. Dolan. "Couldn't I make peace bechune yer?" "What's the good?" rejoined Mr. Rafferty. "It 'ud be like the Russians an' the Japs. We'd quit quarrelin' across the fence an' go to fightin' among ourselves."—Washington Star.

"What a difference in the suffering at time of childbirth

when Dr. R. V. Pierce's medicines are used," writes Mrs. Edmon Jacobs, of Bargersville, Johnson Co., Ind. "I had not heard of Dr. Pierce's medicines three years ago when I was confined, so had to suffer almost death. Before baby was born I could not be on my feet without two persons holding me. The baby was a boy, weighing 9¾ pounds, and for some weeks after his birth I suffered severe pain. Last fall, following the advice of a neighbor, my husband bought me Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which I took during the winter, and in March I gave birth to a baby boy, weighing 10¾ lbs. I was only in labor two hours and was on my feet without help until thirty minutes before baby was born. He is now three months old and weighs 19 lbs. I know it was Dr. Pierce's medicine that saved me from suffering. I advise all women to take Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, also his 'Pleasant Pellets,' if necessary."



"The advice of a neighbor."

"Following the advice of a neighbor." What a weight of confirmatory evidence there is in those six words. The neighbor had tried the "Favorite Prescription" and recommended it. Mrs. Jacobs has also tried it and proved its wonderful properties and now she recommends it. Beside such testimony as this its maker's words are unimportant. Mrs. Jacobs' experience is a fact. Her neighbor's experience is a fact. The written experiences of 500,000 other women are facts. There is no theory about it. There can be no question about it. In every neighborhood in this broad land there are women who have been cured by the "Favorite Prescription." It has cured more cases of female complaint than all other medicines for women combined. It is the only medicine of its kind invented by a skilled specialist in medicine—a regularly graduated physician of more than forty years' actual experience.

THE COTTON MARKET.

New York, September 26.—The cotton market continued fairly active but firmness during the early session was followed by a reaction under realizing and the net change represented a decline of two points to an advance of five points, late months being relatively steady. Sales were estimated at 400,000. The opening was firm at an advance of five to thirteen points in response to bullish Liverpool cables and continued talk of firm spot holders.

At the advance there was heavy realizing and large arrivals at New York, were followed by more liberal offerings of October. This seemed to re-assure shorts all along the line and the market worked off to about last night's prices before midday, after which they broke to a net loss of about two to five points on the active months as a result of a rather less bullish weekly crop report than expected. On the decline important Southern interests came to the support of the market and in the afternoon the general ruling was steady with the close very steady, particularly on the late months. SPIRITS TURPENTINE.

—Mr. J. C. Caddell, formerly of the Raleigh Evening Times, and later, editor of the Salisbury Sun, has closed a contract with the Greensboro Life Insurance Company, as one of its agents. He will abandon newspaper work.

—Mrs. Martha Sessoms, widow of the late W. J. Sessoms, a prominent farmer, died at her home in Flea Hill, Cumberland county, on Monday, aged fifty-five years. Mrs. Sessoms, who was greatly beloved, was a member of Lebanon Baptist church. She leaves a number of children.

—Raleigh News and Observer: The Citizens National Bank of Raleigh yesterday reached a point in amount of deposits that has never been equalled by a Raleigh Bank. The amount is in the aggregate considerably over one million of dollars, the actual figures being $1,017,000, no account being taken of the hundreds.

—Raleigh Post, Sept. 26: Voluntary proceedings in bankruptcy have been instituted in the United States District Court for R. . Smith, of Benson. The liabilities are stated to be $8,097.14 and the assets $7,344.14. The case has been referred to the Deferee in Bankruptcy Victor H. Boyden. The bankrupt is a general merchant in Benson.

—Monroe Enquirer: Mr. W. A. Belk, who has recently been on a visit to relatives in Cleveland county, reports that there is a lady in that county who has been married three times. Two of her husbands are dead and the third is living. All three of the husbands belonged to one company in the Confederate army, lived in the same community and left the same day for the army.

—A special from Atlanta says that Mrs. Robert L. Fortune, a bride of five days has had her husband arrested, charged with desertion. Fortune lately went to Atlanta from Charlotte. He has been put under a $200 bond to secure his appearance at the trial on the 30th instant. Mrs. Fortune says that he told her to go home, that he did not love her and would not support her. He says that he does love her, that he cannot understand why she left him, and that he is still willing to live with her if she will return to him.

—A dispatch from Statesville on Monday says: A $100,000 cotton mill, Mr. J. C. Smith, of Newton, who will locate here, furnishing one-half or three-fifths of the capital, is now a certainty for Statesville. Yesterday Mr. N. B. Mills received a letter from Mr. Smith in which the latter agreed to furnish from $40,000 to $60,000 of the capital required to put up an up-to-date mill of at least 5,000 spindles if Stateville would furnish the balance of the $100,000 that would be necessary for the kind of mill proposed and at a meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce rooms last night Statesville's part of the amount was guaranteed.

—There seems to have been some inaccuray about the manner in which Mr. A. W. Wilson, a farmer, was swindled out of $500 by shapers supposed to be following Van Amburg's circus, which showed at Louisburg Friday. Mr. E. C. Barrow writes the following account to the Raleigh News and Observer: "The swindler did not stay at Mr. Wilson's house the night previous as stated, but approached Mr. Wilson in front of the Farmers and Merchants Bank, introducing himself as Davis, son of an old frield of Wilson, in Virginia. They then walked over to the circus ground where, accidentally, of course, they met up with Judge Brown, of Raleigh. Judge Brown was selling county rights for an electric belt and Davis was enthusiastic over the scheme, saying he would put up $1,000 if Wilson would put up $500 to buy the right. The parties retired to fill out the contract and have not been seen since. Mr. Wilson does not remember passing the money and as he is an extremely cautious man in business affairs, the matter can only be explained by the surmise that he was under some kind of hypnotic spell. The affair created a tremendous sensation here. Warrants were sworn out for the supposed parties and Messrs. T. B. Wilder and W. M. Person left for Henderson next day, the circus being billed for that point on that date. The warrant calling for one Patterson, alias Moore was served and he denied the whole thing. Under threats of the attorneys to carry the man back to Louisburg, the circus managers offered to pay $300, which compromise was effected, and Mr. Wilson recovered $300 of his money.

Inoculated Seed of Nitrogen Gathering Crops.

To the Editor of The Star:

The North Carolina Department of Agriculture will during the month of October distribute among the farmers of the State for experimental purposes, small lots of seed of the following leguminous crops, the seed being in each case ready inoculated with the nitrogen-fixing germ and suitable for immediate planting without further treatment. The crops to be experimented with are as follows:

Alfalfa, Burr clover, sand vetch and crimson clover.

The samples sent out will suffice to sow a strip of land 4x68 feet or one-fourth square rod. As a control test, a smaller quantity of the same seed uninoculated will be sent also.

Applications will be received for any one of the above named seeds or for all four kinds but not more than one sample of one kind will be sent to one applicant. Applicants must enclose with application 20 cents in postage stamps for each kind of seed they desire.

Applicants for these seeds must also send to the undersigned a sample of about one-half pound of surface soil from the field upon which they propose to sow these seeds. This sample should be made up from mixed lots of soil taken from different parts of the field. The soil sample is required to determine the acidity of soil and amount of nitrogen ready present. The soil samples must be sent postpaid.

Applicants must also furnish a description of the field and of the crops grown thereon during the last two years. Experimenters are advised to select dry, clean soil which has this year been in cotton, corn or some hoed crop.

Those who wish to take part in this experiment should make prompt application as the supply of seed will be limited.

Address all correspondence regarding this seed distribution to the undersigned. GERALD McCARTHY,

Biologist, N. C., Department of Agriculture, Raleigh, N. C.

DIZZY?

Read This

"A friend of mine suffered with backache, headache and dizzy spells, and seemed quite worn out from menstrual troubles," writes Miss G. N. Garrett, of Mayersville, Miss., "but she took Cardui by my advice and is now well."

Are you dizzy? Does your head swim? Do your eyes blur? Is your stomach sick? In women, these symptoms are often signs of disordered nervous system, or of liver or heart trouble, brought on by carelessness in regulating the menstrual functions. These functions are even more important to women than the bowel functions to either sex. Even if there is no stoppage, still, a gentle, cleansing, menstrual draught should be taken now and then—every doctor will tell you so. Otherwise the menstrual blood will decay inside you, and will be absorbed into your system, causing such pain and suffering as will make you lose all interest in life.

To cure yourself, take woman's best and safest remedy, menstrual cleanser, tonic and pain reliever, is the old, reliable, time-tested medicine, which, for over 70 years, has been a household word in America, viz:

WINE OF CARDUI Woman's Relief

IN MEMORIAM.

Dr. William James Gilbert died at his home in Raeford, N. C., Saturday, September 9th, 1905, in the sixty-third year of his age.

For some time he had been suffering from attacks of heart disease, and though fully conscious that his condition was critical, he did not repine, but continued his ministrations to other sufferers until the very day of his death, improving the time while he waited patiently for the Master's summons.

Dr. Gilbert was born in Wilmington, N. C., and when quite young graduated from the University of New York, and has ever since practiced in his native State, principally in Wayne and Robeson counties.

As a physician he was prompt and skillful, at once inspiring confidence in the patient, while his hopeful cheery presence acted as a tonic. It is evident that he relied upon the Great Physician as a source of help in all emergencies. When thanked for giving relief from suffering, or for restoring health, the writer has more than once heard him say with earnest protest, with thank me. "I am only an humble instrument in the hands of the Great Healer. Thank Him."

As a friend and neighbor, he was all that could be desired—tender-hearted, sympathetic, resourceful, helpful. His intellect was of a high order, and his cheerful responsive disposition made him welcome wherever he went.

Best of all, he was a Christian. His death has saddened many hearts, and has left a vacancy hard to fill. The poor and needy especially will miss him.

May the God of all comfort be with his widow and his ward while they are passing under the rod. E.

CROPS IN NORTH CAROLINA.

Cotton Improved and Opening Rapidly —Premature Opening in East.

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 26.—The following concerning crops in North Carolina is taken from the crop report of the North Carolina section of the United States Weather Bureau, for the week ending Monday, Sept. 25 :

There has been a slight improvement in the cotton crop during the week; it has continued to open rapidly, and in some counties the bulk of the crop is open, but reports of premature opening are confined to Bladen, Duplin, Halifax, and Northampton counties where the rainfall was deficient and warm, dry weather pre portion and in Sampson northeastern portion and ni Sampson and Anson counties, the heavy rains have done some damage to open cotton and retarded picking; it is generally reported that the bolls are small and the lint short, and that there will be no top crop, owing to shedding. No further reports of damage by army worms have been received. The crop will be everywhere below the average, and in some places very light.

Tobacco is about all cut, and curing continues; it is generally reported as only a fair crop, and of inferior quality; much of it is burnt and speckled, and the remainder lacks weight, but has good color and texture.

Peas, turnips, sweet potatoes, and late corn were benefitted by the rain, but in many places are needing more rain. Corn will be a light crop in the eastern district, and an average crop in the central and western districts. Much fodder was cut and saved during the week, and a little was ruined by rain in the eastern portion of the State. Much of the peavine hay crop has been cut, and good yields are being secured. White potatoes are in good condition, and there are fewer reports of rotting; sweet potatoes are doing well.

BEAUTY GIRL IS IN JAIL.

Fifteen Year Old New York Girl Plays at Black Hand.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, Sept. 25.—Nellie Nussbaum, 15 years old, was today accused by her father of writing letters threatening death unless he paid her $50. The letters were signed the "Black Hand." The girl confessed to the police today that she wrote such letters to her father, saying that she did it "just for fun." One of the letters to her father began:

"See here! We aint going to fool with you no longer. If we don't get $50 on September 25 at 11 P. M., we will kill you and your girl. I am president of the klick and can write plainer letters than the rest.

"THE BLACK HAND."

The close of another letter reads:

"Bring $50 to the spot at Sixty-first street and the East river or we will slay your little beauty girl."

Nellie herself is supposed to have been the beauty girl meant.

Her father was alarmed by these letters and put them in the hands of the police. All of them were written within the last two weeks. The police traced to Nellie's pen another black hand letter demanding money which so alarmed another business man that detectives were put on his case too.

WORKS WONDERS.

It cures all skin itching. It cures skin eruptions. It heals cuts, bruises, scratches and abrasions without leaving a scar. It cures permanently. Wilmington testimony proves it.

J. S. King, clerk on Market streets, residing at 815 Orange street, says: "I used Doan's Ointment and found it to be a great remedy for itching hemorrhoids. It acted like a charm in my case. I tried all kinds of remedies, but until I used Doan's Ointment I could get nothing to give me positive relief. It is a splendid preparation and you are welcome to use my name as one who says so. I obtained it at R. R. Bellamy's drug store."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Like Finding Money.

Finding health is like finding money—so think those who are sick. When you have a cough, cold, sore throat, or chest irritation, better act promtly like W. C. Barber, of Sandy Level, Va. He says: "I had a terrible chest trouble, caused by smoke and coal dust on my lungs; but, after finding no relief in other remedies, I was cured by Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds." Greatest sale of any cough or lung medicine in the world. At R. R. Bellamy drug store; 50c and $1.00; guaranteed. Trial bottle free.

Are You Engaged?

Engaged people should remember, that, after marriage, many quarrels can be avoided, by keeping their digestions in good condition with Electric Bitters. S. A. Brown, of Bennettsville, S. C., says: "For years, my wife suffered intensely from dyspepsia, complicated with a torpid liver, until she lost her strength and vigor and became a mere wreck of her former self. Then she tried Electric Bitters, which helped her at once, and finally made her entirely well. She is now strong and healthy." R. R. Bellamy, druggist, sells and guarantees them, at 50c a bottle. **

BUSINEES FAIRLY HUMMING.

Dun's Report Shows Gain Over Last Year.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, Sept. 22.—R. G. Dun & Company's weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Current of trade shows a distinct gain in comparison with the same time last year; crop reports are re-assuring and evidences of continued activity are noted in almost every department of industry. A wholesome growth without threatening danger of reckless inflation of prices, is a commercial condition greatly to be desired and these elements are recorded in the majority of dispatches. Fall trade is now well under way, and plenty encouraging results are being achieved in dry goods, millinery, footwear and all lines of wearing apparel, while mercantile payments are unusually prompt for the season. Manufacturing plants in the leading industries receive large orders, a heavy tonnage of iron and steel business being placed and machinery houses making very cheerful reports, and textile mills are busy, although new contracts come forward more slowly. As grain comes to market more freely there is difficulty in averting freight blockades and railway earning thus far available for September exceed last year's by 2.5 per cent. Failures numbered 206 against 225 last year.

SUNDAY SCHOOL REUNION.

Tryon Street Baptist Committee Wants Names and Addresses.

Charlotte, N. C., Sept. 25.—The First Baptist (Tryon Street) Sunday School of Charlotte, N. C., will have a "Home Coming" Sunday, October 15th. The morning and evening exercises will be conducted by Rev. J. B. Boone and Rev. O. F. Gregory, former pastors. The Sunday School exercises proper will be held in the afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The superintendent is very anxious to send an invitation to every man, woman and child who has ever been connected with the Sunday School, either as an officer, teacher or scholar. In order to do this it is necessary to have the present address of those who have removed from Charlotte. You are, therefore, requested to send your name at once to Mr. T. S. Franklin, the superintendent, who will be glad to send you one of the invitations. All visitors will be entertained, and if you expect to be present, please notify Mr. Willis Brown, the chairman, not later than October 10th.

WASHING WITHOUT WATER

Did you ever see any one trying to wash themselves without soap or water?

If you did what would you say of him?

It is every bit as foolish to try to get rid of Dandruff and to prevent Baldness by feeding the germs which cause it, with Cantharides, Vaseline, Glycerine and similar substances which form the principal ingredients of most so-called Hair Vigors.

Newbro's Herpicide is successful because it attacks and kills the parasitic germ which feeds on the hair roots.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

Wednesday Morning, Sept. 27.

DOUBLE COLLISION BETWEEN SHIPS AT SEA

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Newport News, Va., Sept. 26.—The steamer Bayport outward bound from this port for Boston with 2,400 tons of coal, ran down and sank the three masted schooner Job H. Jackson, from New York for Norfolk, near Thimble shoal in Chesapeake bay last night at 7:40 o'clock. Charles Johnatse, a Norwegian, of the Jackson's crew who was at the wheel when the collision occurred, was washed overboard and drowned and the mate T. J. Robbins, had his right arm broken. After the collision the Bayport rescued Captain Williamson, Mate Robbins and four other of the crew of the Jackson and brought them here today.

After rescuing the men the Bayport dropped anchor within the horse shoe near Cape Henry, and at 3 o'clock this morning a schooner supposed to be the Ann B. Trainer, inward bound from New York for Norfolk, ran down the Bayport, smashing in six plates on her starboard side just forward of amidships, and carried away her aft house. The schooner had her foreirigging carried away but the injuries to her hull are not known. After the collision the Trainer proceeded to Norfolk. No one on either ship was injured.

Although neither the master of the Bayport or the Jackson would give out any information concerning the first collision, it was learned that the accident resulted from the erratic movements of the schooner. The pilot of the Bayport first sighted the Jackson with her green light to him and he gave three blasts of his whistle but the schooner came about on another tack showing red lights. The Bayport's course was changed to avoid accident when the Jackson again tacked, bearing down in front of the Bayport under full speed. The steamer's engines were reversed but she smashed into the schooner with terrific force cutting a great hole in her bow starboard side. The Jackson filled rapidly and keeled over with her bow under water. She floated up Chesapeake Bay and has not been heard from since. The Bayport returned here today, with about ten plates damaged and leaking slightly. She will repair and proceed.

WARM WIRELETS.

The American Association of Street Railway Claim Agents have elected E. W. O'Connor, of the Savannah Electrical Company, first vice president.

Word was received in New York yesterday that the man arrested Monday in Central Bridge, N. Y., on suspicion that he was Joseph Girard, who is wanted for the murder of Gussie Pfeiffer, in the Bronx, is not Girard.

Alband yesterday doubled its quarantine force against Pensacola on account of so many people leaving that city. Hattiesburg, Miss., was also quarantined pending the investigation of a suspicious case there.

It is stated in well informed quarters in Paris that the plans for another Russian loan to be divided between Paris and Berlin have practically been concluded. The amount is understood to be approximately $175,000,000.

In a riot among negroes at Brown Hill Baptist church, Aiken county, S. C., Sunday afternoon, Joe Irvin was instantly killed, Kit Irvin, mortally, and Jim Andrews, Wonsey Blunt, Albert Preston and Chester Overstreet more or less seriously wounded.

Assistant Attorney General Townsend of South Carolina resigned yesterday to enter the law firm of Abney & Thompson. Mr. Gunter appointed as his successor. Gen. Leroy F. Youmans, who served as attorney general during the administration of Governors Hampton and Hagood.

Mayor C. S. Lewis, of Tuskegee, Ala., has received a telegram from Secretary Loeb advising him that President Roosevelt on his visit there, will devide him time between the town of Tuskegee and the Tuskegee Normal and Industrial Institute for negroes. At a meeting of the city council, preparations were made on behalf of the city to extend the President a welcome.

The continued activity in the export section of the New York dry goods market yesterday although somewhat uneven, had considerable influence on the market. The increased steadiness of raw cotton was a matter which also influenced the seller. Jobbers began to operate in a good many instances for Spring, not being willing to run the risk of being caught short of the market.

A Greensboro, N. C., special says a physician there received a letter last night from a trained nurse he had sent to Millboro, a cotton mill settlement near Asheboro, Randolph county, N. C., saying there were several cases of yellow fever there and it was the last letter she would be allowed to mail. It is believed in Greensboro that the disease is hemorrhagic fever.

The Mobile Cotton Exchange yesterday refused to name a committee to represent that body with committees from other commercial bodies in receiving the President next month. The reason given was the body is purely commercial and has nothing to do with politics or social matters.

SUIT AGAINST JOURNAL.

North Carolina Negro Congressman's Testimonal to Peruna.

By Wire to the Morning Star.

Chicago, September 26.—Suit was begun in the Superior Court today for $250,000 damages against the Curtis Publishing Company, publishers of the Ladies' Home Journal. Samuel B. Hartman, of Columbus, O., proprietor of the Peruna Medicine Company, is the plaintiff in the suit. In the August issue of the Journal, the declaration says, an advertisement of the Peruna Company contained a testimonial from Congressman George H. White, of North Carolina. In the next issue of the magazine, the declaration alleges that the testimonial was reprinted but with it was a signed denial from Congressman White that he had given the testimonial to the medicine company. This denial, Hartman alleges, was secured through a misunderstanding, as Congressman White, it is said in the declaration, signed the original testimonial.

FEVER RECORD FOR TUESDAY

New Orleans Reports Thirty-One New Cases and Five Deaths for Day

TOTAL DEATH ROLL IS 375

Pensacola Had Eight More Cases and Two Deaths—Natchez and Vicksburg Make Gloomy Showing—Fever Germ Discovery.

By Wire to The Morning Star

New Orleans, Sept. 26.—The following is the official yellow fever record in New Orleans up to 6 P. M. to-day:

New cases to-day,	31.
Total cases to date,	2,899.
Deaths to-day,	5.
Total deaths to date,	375.
New foci,	7.
Under treatment,	286
Cases discharged,	2,238.

Through the deaths were more numerous than since Sunday, the fever situation to-day was regarded as showing unmistakable signs of improvement. Cases were reported infrequently during the day, and the total for the twenty-four hours was considered favorable. The deaths were on or below Canal stret, as were a large majority of the cases reported. In the lower section of the city the physicians consider the disease to be well in hand with the probability that October will see its entire removal.

Isolated cases are appearing where people are neglecting local precautions and risking the development of concealed centers of infection. Dr. White to-day had Surgeon Berry engaged in an investigation for two such cases with the promise of affidavits against them. Dr. White is disposed to overlook the transgressions of the poorer classes, but he is determined that on one who is able to have a doctor shall fail to make a report of cases. For the past three days the suspicious list has been unusually small, but Tuesday's suspicious list is large enough to warrant the belief that Wednesday's report will be larger than for the two preceeding days. A group of four cases among cases in the Convent of Perpetual Adoration, on Marais street, was reported by the attending physician. The infection there was discovered three weeks ago, through the death of a sister and a few days ago two more cases developed. Now four more are reported.

More interest centers here now in this question whether or not the yellow germ is to be discovered as the result of the investigations that are in progress than in the fever itself, but the public is left in much uncertainty by the vagueness of the disclosures that have thus far been made regarding the microbe.

Country Situation.

The country reports were meagre and indicated no new points of infection. The reports were. Kenner, 3 new cases, 1 death.

Patterson, 6 new cases.

Bunkie, 1 death.

Lutcher, 1 new case.

Grand Isle, 2 new cases.

Tallulah, 5 new cases.

New Cases in Mississippi.

Jackson, Miss, Sept. 26.—The Mississippi yellow fever report to-night shows only one death in the State, Natchez. Two positive cases are reported at Port Gibson, and this is the only new point of infection. The summary of new cases is as follows: Gulfport, 1; Mississippi City, 4; Vicksburg, 4; Natchez, 8; Hamburg, 3; Roxie, 0; Hansborough, 0, and Hamburg has five suspicious cases.

Nest of Infection.

Vicksburg, Miss., Sept. 26.—While there were no new cases of yellow fever in the city proper to-day, a rather bad nest of infection was found just outside the northeastern limits in a thickly settled negro community. Four positive cases were found there with several others of a suspicious nature.

Surgeon Guiteras, of the Public Health and Marine Hospital service, and Dr. Haralson, of the State Board of Health, went to Gibson, 25 miles South of this city and found several cases of fever, one convalescent. The source of the infection could not be learned.

Eight More Cases at Pensacola.

Pensacola, Fla., Sept. 26.—The yellow fever, situation to-day shows improvement. During the twenty-four hours ending at 6 P. M. two deaths and eight new cases were reported. Two of the new cases are from the German ship Kaiser, from which four persons having the fever were removed yesterday. Following is the official summary to 6 P. M.: New cases today, 8; total cases to date, 109; deaths to-day, 2; total deaths to date, 14; cases under treatment, 51; cases discharged, 44.

Natchez, Miss., September 26.—The eight new cases of yellow fever to-day brings the total up to 69. Of the eight only two are new foci, and they are not far from the old infected districts.

Official summary: New cases, 8; new foci, 2; total foci, 21; total cases, 59; total deaths, 3; discharged to-day, 4.

Death In New York.

New York, Sept. 26.—Jose Macaira, a coal passer, died of yellow fever today at Swinburne Island, New York's quarantine detention hospital. He was removed from the steamer Havana from Colon last Saturday, but the yellow fever did not develop sufficiently to be diagnosed until late yesterday. The body will be cremated.

The John Willie-Gus Ruhlin fight, advertised to take place at Salt Lake City, last night was called off. County Attorney Christensen having issued an order prohibiting the bout.

Nine Young Eaglets.

The local aerie of Eagles last night received nine new eaglets, each of whom had his wings trimmed nicely and otherwise prepared for the lofty perch, characteristic of the order. By next meeting night, the local aerie expect to be in its handsome new lodge rooms and the week following they expect to occupy their club rooms in the I. Shrier building, which have been beautifully fitted up to compare favorably with any in the South.

GOVERNMENT SUIT AGAINST CAPT. CARTER

Proceedings to Compel Him to Disgorge Half Million Dollars Secured by Fraud at Savannah.

By Wire to The Morning Star

Chicago, Sept. 26.—Attorneys for the Federal government to-day continued the cross examination of former Captain O. M. Carter in the proceedings brough to compel Carter to turn over $500,0000 to the National treasury. Twelve army chests filled with documentary evidence lined the walls of the room. Special Examiner Richard Wyman is taking testimony which later will be referred to United States Circuit Judge Kohlsaat for consideration. The funds in controversy are in the hands of the Federal court awaiting the decision of Judge Kohlsaat.

Attorney Horace G. Stone, representing the defendant, to-day succeeded in having introduced as evidence two letters written by Carter insisting that his case be taken up by the Federal courts before the death of certain important witnesses. One letter is dated Fort Leavenworth, Kas., June 17, 1901, and was addressed to the President of the United States while the defendant was confined in the military prison serving a five-year term.

Attorney Edward I. Johnson, representing the National government, questioned Captain Carter to-day regarding a loan of $1,600 made in New York in 1886 from Captain Greene.

"Tell us about borrowing that money," said Attorney Johnson.

"My father was on his death bed and the fact that there was a mortgage of $1,600 on his little home worried him a great deal," said the witness. My brother told me about it, and I decided to see if I could not get the money and pay off the mortgage. I went to New York and saw General Gillespie."

"He is now dead, is he not?"

"Yes."

"I object to these references about dead people," interrupted Attorney Stone. "The records of this case show that the suit was not started by the government until a month after the death of the witnesses that are being constantly referred to for public effect. My client pleaded for many months before these witnesses decided to have this case heard, but without success. Now the government wants to make it appear that Carter purposely delayed the hearing until after these witnesses were dead.

"The facts speak for themselves," replied Attorney Johnson.

The witness then continued: "I obtained the loan from Captain Greene, who had been a life-long friend. The loan was made to me and my brother and we both endorsed the notes. We paid back the money in 1888 with 6 per cent. interest and received a receipt."

"You had two previous opportunities to make this explanation, but did not do it either before the court martial or before the board of engineers. Tell us about it?" said Attorney Johnson.

"I answered every question put to me freely and willingly, at both hearings," replied the witness.

Attorney Irwin went into other financial transactions which Carter had with B. D. Greene, one of the contractors with whom it was charged the former army officer was in collusion for the purpose of robbing the government. Carter said that the checks which he made out to be paid to Greene, were for the purpose of having the contractors pay certain moneys to a woman of whom Carter wished to keep Mr. Westcott, his father-in-law, in ignorance.

It came out at this juncture that Greene was once an officer on the engineer corps of the United States army and a graduate, like Carter, of West Point.

The former captain said Greene was his personal friend and that for this reason, he had asked Greene to act in a matter which Carter did not wish to have made public. It was purely a personal matter and was entirely foreign to any business dealing, accordington to Carter's statements.

GOVERNMENT RATE MAKING.

Senator Morgan Believes Policy Will Endanger State Sovereignty.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Montgomery, Ala., Sept. 26.—In a lengthy letter received by Governor Jelks from Senator John T. Morgan, the latter referring to the railway rate question, says among other things:

"It is neither wise nor right to leave our Congressmen to prescribe or to forestall the policy of the State in a matter that involves her sovereignty. For one, I want the instructions of the Legislature on this subject, and I will add that I can think of no greater folly than to create excitement in respect to fixing the rates of all our railroads while Congress is discussing rates that shall be imposed on them by laws that are paramount to State legislation. Do we intend to yield to Congress even without discussion the paramount and exclusive right to fix these freight rates on railroads that transport goods to or from other States? If we intend to yield these rights, it is in vain that they are the subject of controversy among the State railroad commissioners. If we intend to adhere to our rights, such instructions should be given to our Congressmen."

UNRAVELING THE MURDER.

Divers to Search for Missing Head of Young Woman.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 26.—The police activity in the "suit case" mystery increased today. Yesterday the solution was believed to be in sight. An identification of the suit case and the finding of a bundle of bloody garments gave the authorities more expectation that the tangle would be unravelled. In their efforts to accomplish this result they arranged today that a corps of divers should visit Winthrop harbor to search underneath the water for the missing head and limbs of the woman victim of the tragedy. The police have decided that Mrs. Rosa Schapiro, a blonde formerly of Baltimore, who disappeared from this city several weeks ago, is not the dead woman. Mrs. Schapiro lived here with her husband, Dr. Maurice Schapiro. Her disapearance, as well as that of her husband, led Baltimore detectives to consult with the local police with reference to the possibility that she was the victim of the homicide. Captain Dugan said this afternoon that from the conditions which the autopsy revealed the police are satisfied that the missing Mrs. Schrapiro is not the woman whose identity the police are seeking to establish.

PRESERVE PEACE IN FAR EAST

Alliance Guarantees Independence and Integrity of China—Equal Trade Opportunity for All Nations Assured.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

London, Sept. 27.—The text of the new agreement between Great Britain and Japan which was signed by Lord Lansdowne, the British Foreign Secretary, and Baron Hayashi, the Japanese minister to Great Britain, on August 12, was issued by the foreign office late last evening. The momentous document is a brief one, comprising less than 80 words, including eight articles and a preamble.

Accompanying the agreement is a covering letter from Lord Lansdowne to the British ambassadors at St. Petersburg and Paris, for transmission to the Russian and French governments, respectively, in which the foreign secretary courteously reviews the agreement and carefully points out that the new defensive alliance is not intended as a menace but rather as a guarantee of peace and prosperity in the Far East in which all countries may participate.

The main features of the new agreement have already been forecasted in the Associated Press dispatches from London and Paris. The pithy articles of the official text, however, brings out forcefully the tremendous importance to both countries of this alliance, which partically makes Great Britain Japan and Japan Great Britain for the purposes of defense "in the regions of East Asia and India."

This inclusion of India specifically as a point at which any aggression by a foreign power will call for the assistance of Japan finds much favor with the press of London, the morning papers, in long laudatory articles, welcoming the new and more extensive alliance of the two insular kingdoms west and east as giving immediate relief from the dangerous thunder cloud which for so many years has hung over the India frontier.

The preamble reads: "The governments of Great Britain and Japan, being desirous of replacing the agreement concluded between them January 30, 1902, by fresh stipulations, have agreed upon the following articles, which have for their object: (a)—Consolidation and the maintenance of general peace in the regions of Eastern Asia and India. (b)—The preservation of the common interests of all the powers in China by ensuring the independence and integrity of the Chinese Empire and the principle of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of all nations in China. (c)—The maintenance of the territorial rights of the high contracting parties in the regions of Eastern Asia and of India and the defense of their special interests in the said regions."

"Article I. It is agred that whenever in the opinion either of Great Britain and Japan any of the rights and interests referred to in the preamble in this agreement are in jeopardy, the two governments will communicate with one another fully and frankly and will consider in common the measures which should be taken to safeguard those menaced rights or interests.

"Article II. Should either of the high contracting parties be invioved in war in defense of its territorial rights or special interests, the other party will at once come to the assistance of its ally and both parties will conduct a war in common and make peace in mutual agreement with any power or powers involved in such war.

"Article III.—Japan possessing paramount, political, military and economic interests in Korea, Great Britain, recognizes Japan's rights to take such measures for the guidance, control and protection of Korea as she may deem proper and necessary to safeguard and advance those interests, providing the measures so taken are not contrary to the principle of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of all nations.

"Article IV.—Great Britain, having a special interest in all that concerns the security of the Indian frontier, Japan recognizes her right to take such measures in the proximity of that frontier as she may find necessary for safeguarding her Indian possessions.

"Article V.—The high contracting parties agree that neither will, without consulting the other, enter into a separate arrangement with another power to the prejudice of the objects described in the preamble.

"Article VI.—As regards the present war between Japan and Russia. Great Britain will continue to maintain strict neutrality unless some other power or powers join in hostilities against Japan, in which case Great Britain will come to the assistance of Japan, will conduct war in common and will make peace in mutual agreement with Japan.

"Article VII.—The conditions under which armed assistance shall be afforded by either power to the other in the circumstances mentioned in the present agreement and the means by which such assistance shall be made available will be arranged by the naval and military authorities of the contracting parties who will from time to time consult one another fully and freely on all questions of mutual interests.

"Article VII.—The present agreement shall be subject to the provisions of article six and come into effect immediately after the date of signature and remain in force for ten years from that date in case neither of the parties shall have been notified 12 months before the expiration of said ten years of an intention of terminating it. It shall remain binding until the alliance is actually ipso facto and day on which either of the parties shall have denounced it but if when the date for the expiration arrives either ally is actually engaged in war the alliance shall be Ipso Facto and continued until peace shall be concluded."

With the treaty was issued a dispatch to the British ambassador at St. Petersburg, Sir Charles Harding, with the request that the treaty be communicated to the Russian goverament.

In it Lord Lansdowne says:

"The Russian government will, I trust, recognize that this new agreement is an international instrument to which no exception can be taken by any of the powers interested in the affairs of the Far East."

Continuing, Lord Lansdowne says: "Great Britain, I believe, may count on the good will and support of all the powers in endeavorig to maintain peace in Eastern Asia and in seeking to uphold the integrity and independence of the Chinese Empire and the principle of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of all nations in that Empire. On the other hand the interests of the contracting parties are of a kind upon which they are fully entitled to insist, and the announcement that those interests must be safeguarded is one which can create no surprise and need give rise to no misgivings."

Special mention is made of Article VII and VII of the latter. Lord Lansdowne says:

"It recognizes in the clearest terms the paramount position which Japan at this moment occupies and must henceforth occupy in Korea. It is however, expressly provided that such measures must not be contrary to the principle of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of other nations. The treaty at this point differs conspicuously from that of 1902."

The dispatch concludes with an expression of the hope that the alliance may for years to come be instrumental in securing the peace of the world in those regions, which come within its scope."

A similar dispatch was addressed to Sir Francis Bertie, the British ambassador at Paris.

KOMURA'S PARTING INTERVIEW.

Says Japan Will Count on Co-operation of the United States.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, Sept. 26.—Baron Komura, Japan's peace plenipotentiary, who will start for Japan tomorrow, gave the Associated Press tonight the first authentic interview since he has been in this country on the peace mission and which he said would be the last one. Baron Komura feels deeply grateful for many courtesies and kindnesses extended during his visits, and commended highly President Roosevelt's successful efforts in bringing the representatives of Japan and Russia together. The Baron said in part:

"As the result of the war Japan will undoubtedly secure a well recognized position in the Far East. I have, however, no hesitation in affirming that there will be no break in the continuity of Japan's foreign policy. Steadily and firmly adhering to the policy of peaceful expansion in commerce and industry, Japan will devote all her energies with renewed vigor to the development of her national resources.

"She will continue, as in the past, to scrupulously respect the acquired rights and legitimate interests of the powers n the Far East; not will she attempt to interfere in the least with the logical and legitimate developments of those interests.

"In her pursuit of commercial and industrial expansion, Japan will count upon the co-operation of the United States, whose interests in the Far East are completely identical with her own and whose traditional friendship for Japan has found fresh confirmation in the appreciative and sympathetic attitude maintained by the American people through the tremendous struggle in which Japan has been engaged.

"It is my sincere hope and earnest belief that the relations between the great republic and the Empire of the East, which are based on mutual sympathy and identical interests, will continue to grow in strength and solidity."

Baron Komura and his party will leave this city over the New York Central railroad tomorrow for Montreal where they will proceed to Vancouver over the Canadian Pacific line. The party will sail on the steamship Empress of India for Japan October 2.

TYPHOON SWEEPS MANILA.

Number Killed and Injured—Eight Thousand Homeless.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

New York, Sept. 26.—The Evening Sun has a dispatch from Manila reporting a destructive typhoon in that city. The native districts were swept away, 8,000 persons are homeless, five Filipinos were killed and 200 persons injured. Hundreds of buildings were unroofed. Thousands of electric light wires were blown down, filling the streets with flames until the current was turned off. The city was in darkness when the dispatch was sent, and all street traffic was suspended. It was believed that shipping in the bay had warning of the approach of the storm, but up to the time the dispatch was sent the ships were invisible on account of the rain, and had not communicated with the shore.

Washington, Sept. 26.—The War Department to-day received a cablegram from Manila saying that the transport Logan has been delayed from sailing from that place by a typhoon. No mention is made of damage to property.

By Cable to The Morning Star.

The correspondent of the Associated Press today visited LaBoca where the work has been pushed forward since the arrival of Mr. Stevens and the increase of the dockage facilities. Mr. Stevens informed the correspondent that the 1,900 foot dock at LaBoca will be finished September 20. That the dock at Cristobal will be completed by the middle of October and that work on the railroad to be connected with the canal zone is advancing satisfactorily. Over 2,000 new laborers from Barbadoes and Colombia have been employed since September 1.

CHARLESTON BANKER DEAD.

Served on Confederate Cruiser Fox During Civil War.

By Wire to The Morning Star.

Charleston, S. C., Sept. 26.—Thomas R. McGahan, aged 81 and for many years a resident of Charleston, died at his home to-day after a short illness. In 1849 Mr. McGahan caught the "gold fever" and was among the thousands who went to California, but he found the climate too strenuous, and stayed only eighteen months. He came to Charleston in 1853 and soon afterwards entered the drygood business. During the war, McGahan served in the Calhoun guards and later on the Confederate cruiser For, running into Galveston in broad daylight. He was at the time of his death president of the Exchange Banking and Trust Company and director in a dozen business concerns. He was ex-president of the Chamber of Commerce, of the Cotton Exchange, and for thirty three years was president of the Board of Health. He leaves a son and two daughters.
